Taylor's tea rooms

The story of our tea begins in January 2009. Our Ashburton tearooms opened with its signature faded chintz and old English style, soon becoming a popular retreat on the edge of the Moor. Whilst Taylor's Tearooms also became known for its cakes and antiques, our interest in the tea was the driving force behind the business.

Having travelled widely to some of the world's finest tea producing countries to understand the process, the lifestyle and the history of this extremely important commodity, we found our passion.

Artisan Teas

Our teas are chosen from a handful of tea merchants who hold quality and authenticity close to their hearts. We blend a number of unique teas ourselves and believe that from a decade of tea obsession, we have produced a tea menu to appeal to every palate.
